Inside each FG repack installer there is a link that leads here. If you click on it, the installer will open, which describes how to make the same installer. Create an automatic file deletion installer. Create an automatic file download installer. To do this, click on the Create installer button in the same way as we create installers for unattended program installations in the Windows admin panel. Right-click and select "Run as administrator" from the menu. In the window that opens, select the Russian language, click "OK". In the next window "Set name" specify the name of the new installer. Click "Next". In the next window "Add a couple .." select the file (for automatic download) and the path where it is stored (for automatic deletion). For an empty folder, there is an "OK" button to delete it. By clicking on the "Save" button, save the installer to the folder that you specified. Download our installer to your computer. Now we are looking for the file itself (it must be previously marked as xxx.exe) in the root directory of the installed program. In the control panel that opens, select System Libraries and click "Open". Click "Next" and in the next window select the folder where the installer was downloaded (our xxx file). Click the "Install" button and give the installation, as mentioned above. Install anti-virus database updates. 8. After installation, launch the "Run ..." program, enter the "msconfig" command in the "Enter" field and click the "OK" button if everything is fine for you. If not, then click the "Apply" button and wait until the program starts. If "No" in the message, then the program did not start. Maybe you don't have the correct language file installed. In this case, click on the "Preview" button and check the box next to "Load language module". That's all. If you still have questions, you can find answers to them on the pages of the forum.
